Yi Kang Â· Cited 12 - The patient underwent pancreaticoduodenal resection with the help of a robot... Chang et al. perform the most basic surgical manipulations, for example, he cannot cut tissue if they do not contain fat. For this reason, the robot cannot perform diagnostic operations either. Therefore, for example, an operation to remove the appendix is â€œnot able to be performed by a robot, since in this situation it is necessary to make an incision in the abdomen.
